Nixon Still Working on New Budget

NEWSROOM NOTES — A single pinprick of blood can now yield as much medical information as an entire syringe.

At the moment, new "microchemical techniques" are used only for babies, whose blood supply is limited and precious, and only in certain pediatric centers. But Dr. Knud Engel of Babies Hospital, who helped develop the microchemical technique in Denmark, says the technique may become routine for babies and may spread to adults within five years.

The conventional method of obtaining a blood sample involves tapping a vein in the elbow crease for a syringe. Arteries must be punctured for special tests. Using the microchemical technique, a foot or a hand is warmed, which increases the arterial blood flow. When sophisticated, miniaturized electronic equipment is used to analyze a pinprick of this blood, the results are as valid as for a large quantity of arterial blood, Dr. Engel says.

Can the maxicoat be dangerous?

Yes, insists Mrs. Marjorie May of the Greater New York Safety Council, who also finds them graceless and unsanitary.

Danger lurks inside and out for maxicoat wearers, according to Mrs. May, who cited the following possibilities: Catching the hem in an escalator, stepping on the bottom and tripping while going up curbs and stairs, catching high heels in the hem, having the person behind step on the dragging skirt.

"The current popularity of maxi-length garments is a fad, not a real fashion," insists the safety expert. "We believe women should be made aware of the accident potential of such clothing, but we certainly are not trying to act as fashion dictators."

For those who prefer style to safety, Mrs. May counsels instant lifting of the skirt when confronted with curb, stair, puddle, escalator or other hazard.

Snow Keeps Road Death Toll Down

By United Press International

A steady but slow rise in traffic deaths indicated today that the National Safety Council's estimate of 800 to 920 Christmas Holiday fatalities was too high. The council said snow kept the toll down.

"It looks like traffic deaths will be well below our estimate," a council spokesman said today.

"I think snow helped keep a lot of people home and those who did go out were a lot more careful."

A United Press International count at 7 a.m. EST showed at least 322 persons killed in traffic accidents since the holiday period began at 6 p.m. Wednesday. It ends at midnight, local time, Sunday.

A breakdown of accidental deaths:

Traffic	322
Planes	0
Fires	51
Miscellaneous	27
Total	400

California and Texas led the states with 27 traffic deaths. New York had 20. Florida and Georgia each had 19, and Pennsylvania had 14.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon, having strongly hinted he intends to sign the tax reform bill, continued to work today on budget problems in an effort to offset the bill's projected $2.5 billion revenue loss for fiscal 1971.

Although he had earlier threatened to veto the reform in relief measure on the grounds it is inflationary, the President indicated Friday his budget trimming decisions were based on the assumption that the newly-passed tax bill would become law.

The disclosure came when Nixon talked to reporters after meeting for most of the day on the projected budget for 12 months beginning July 1 with budget director Robert May and defense secretary Melvin R. Laird and other aides.

"One of our major problems is we have got to readjust our whole thinking because there is a $2.5 billion shortfall which resulted from the tax bill," the President said.

Loss Emphasized

Nixon told newsmen that the House-Senate Conference Committee had "commendably reduced the loss of revenue" in its compromise version of the bill which Congress approved Monday.

However, he emphasized that the bill still carries a revenue loss $2.5 billion greater than the original administration bill.

Nixon has six more days in which to sign the bill or it will be pocket vetoed.

In discussing the budget, which he hopes to deliver to Congress the final week in January, the President said that defense expenditures would be the smallest percentage of the overall budget since World War II.

Lips Sealed

Neither Nixon nor Mayo gave any figures, but the new budget is expected to exceed $200 billion for the first time in history, despite the trimming.

"We are closing all the zippers between revenue and expenditures and this involved some very heavy breathing in," said Mayo.

The President and his family had cancelled plans to fly to San Clemente, Calif., Friday for the remainder of the holiday season in order to work on the budget. They are now expected to depart the White House on Tuesday.

Nixon will spend much of his time at the oceanside villa preparing his State of the Union address which he plans to deliver on Jan. 22.

Seek Crew Of Crippled Ammo Ship

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (UPI)—A U.S. plane dropped flares over the stormy mid-Pacific Ocean Friday night in a search for 25 crewmen from the crippled ammunition ship Badger State.

Fourteen other crewmen had been picked up by a Greek ship, the Khian Star, the U.S. Navy reported.

The 459-foot Badger State, laden with bombs and rockets for Vietnam, lay deserted and smoking from her stern 1,500 miles northwest of Hawaii.

Her crew abandoned the ship Friday morning after some of its deadly cargo broke loose. About an hour after the crew got off an explosion ripped a hole in the starboard side just above the water line, according to the Navy.

Weather in the area was rough with 18-20 foot seas and winds up to 40 knots.

Party Leaps Ahead in Japan Vote

TOKYO (UPI)—Japan's pro-American ruling Liberal Democratic party (LDP) surged into a big lead today in early returns from a nationwide election to fill the 486-seat lower house of the Diet, or parliament.

With votes counted for 74 of the 486 seats, Prime Minister Eisaku Sato's Liberal Democrats had won 59 at 10 p.m., four hours after the polls closed.

The Japan Socialist party, a longtime critic of American involvement in Asia, had captured only 10 seats. The moderate Democratic Socialists' had won three and the Communist party and the Buddhist-oriented Komeito (clean government) party had one each.

Bad weather kept millions of Japanese voters from the polls and the turnout was the lightest since World War II.

Light Turnout

Half an hour before the polls closed, the government election headquarters estimated that only 61.5 per cent of the nation's 69.9 million registered voters had cast ballots. Japan Broadcasting Corp. (NHK) estimated a final turnout of 65 per cent, 9 per cent less than in the last general election in 1967.

The northern island of Hokkaido was in the grip of heavy snows as were some coastal areas in the west. The rest of the country was chilled by unseasonably cold weather.

With 3,317,069 votes counted, the LDP had garnered 55.77 per cent of the votes. The Socialists had 22.66 per cent, Democratic Socialists 4.92 per cent, Komeito 7.09 per cent and Communists 3.73 per cent. Another 5.81 per cent went to independent candidates.

Sato himself easily won reelection in his home district in Yamaguchi province in central Japan.

Only 26 of the nation's 123 election districts planned to count votes tonight with the remainder, including Tokyo, Osaka and Kyoto, waiting until Sunday morning to start their tallies. Final results are expected to be known by noon Sunday.

The lower house was dissolved by Prime Minister Eisaku Sato Dec. 2 following his return from the United States, where he had won a promise for a return of the island of Okinawa in 1972.

The Week in Review

By DOUG ANDERSON

United Press International Arab dissension and an unusually heavy air attack by Israel gave a new tilt this week to the precarious balance of the "hostile peace" in the Middle East.

The latest U.S. proposal for a solution, suggesting the return of territory occupied by Israel in 1967 in exchange for Arab guarantees of peace, was dismissed by Moscow as unlikely to be "constructive." The plan had previously been assailed by Israel and the Arabs.

An Arab strategy conference in Rabat, Morocco, collapsed when Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser walked out because oil-rich Saudi Arabia and Kuwait would not contribute as much as he thought they should for the mobilization of Arab armies. A ceremonial closing session was boycotted by Syria, Iraq and Southern Yemen.

Arab political sources in Beirut, Lebanon, said leaders of Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Iraq will meet in Cairo next month to consider further action.

On Christmas Day, Israeli warplanes pounded Egyptian positions along the Suez Canal for 8 1/2 hours in the longest continuous air strike Israel had ever launched against an Arab country.

An Israeli army spokesman said targets receiving special attention included anti-aircraft missile sites being rebuilt by the Egyptians. The sites had been blasted by Israeli planes more than a month ago.

Around the world:

SAIGON—U.S. forces in Vietnam resumed military operations Friday at the conclusion of a 24-hour Christmas truce, ignoring the three-day cease-fire proclaimed by the Communists. The American command reported 111 enemy violations of the Allied truce.

PARIS—Fifty-eight wives and 94 children of men missing or captured in Vietnam made a flying trip to the French capital to ask North Vietnamese officials for information about their loved ones. They got nothing except an assurance that the information they desire will be made available "gradually."

WASHINGTON — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew took off on a 10-nation tour of Southeast Asia, carrying with him Presidential messages and moon-rock samples for leaders of the nations on his itinerary.

BERLIN—Rudolf Hess, last of the major Nazis convicted of war crimes still remaining in confinement, saw his wife and son for the first time in 28 years. Hess is the only inmate of Spandau prison in West Berlin.

NEWARK, N.J.—U.S. Attorney Frederick B. Lacey announced that federal prosecutors and investigators in New Jersey and eastern Pennsylvania have joined forces in a drive against organized crime and political corruption in southern New Jersey like the one that has produced 70 indictments in the northern part of the state.

WASHINGTON — The 91st Congress adjourned its first session in an atmosphere of eased differences with the administration. Final acts of the session included passage of a bill President Nixon is expected to use to expand trade with Communist nations.

News Briefs

WASHINGTON (AP) — S.Sgt. David Mitchell, accused of assault with intent to commit murder involving 30 Vietnamese civilians, was to appear before an Army panel investigating the original probe of the alleged My Lai massacre, while part of the panel flew to Vietnam.

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Texas industrialist H. Ross Perot says the Soviet government is considering his request to fly to Moscow with a plane load of gifts for U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Premiums paid by elderly Americans for supplementary medical coverage will go up from $4 to $5.30 per month next July 1. Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, has announced.

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Hospital officials said Friday a 43-year-old Newton, N.J., man was making "satisfactory progress" after receiving a new heart and lungs in a three-hour and 13-minute transplant operation.

A hospital spokesman said Edward Falk underwent the operation Thursday.

Falk, whose name had been previously withheld at the request of relatives, had been dying of emphysema, a lung disease, prior to the operation.

He received the organs of a 50-year-old woman who had died of a brain hemorrhage. The donor's identity has not been revealed.

HONOLULU (AP) — Launching his ten-nation Asian tour, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says the Nixon administration wants Asian nations to develop self-sufficiency making it "unnecessary for the United States to step in if things go wrong."

By United Press International Israel: commandos backed by jet fighters raided Egyptian military positions during the night on the Gulf of Suez, 125 miles south of the Suez Canal, the Israeli command announced today.

A spokesman said the raiders killed several Egyptian soldiers and captured four others. He said one Israeli was slightly wounded but that all men and aircraft returned safely to base.

It was the third reported Israeli commando raid against Egyptian positions in the past 10 days. The target this time was Ras Gharib. The disclosure that Israeli warplanes were involved was unusual, for commando squadrons in the past have seldom reported raids with warplane support.

"The Israeli Air Force took part in a raid by attacking objectives in the area," the spokesman said. "All Israeli planes returned safely to base."

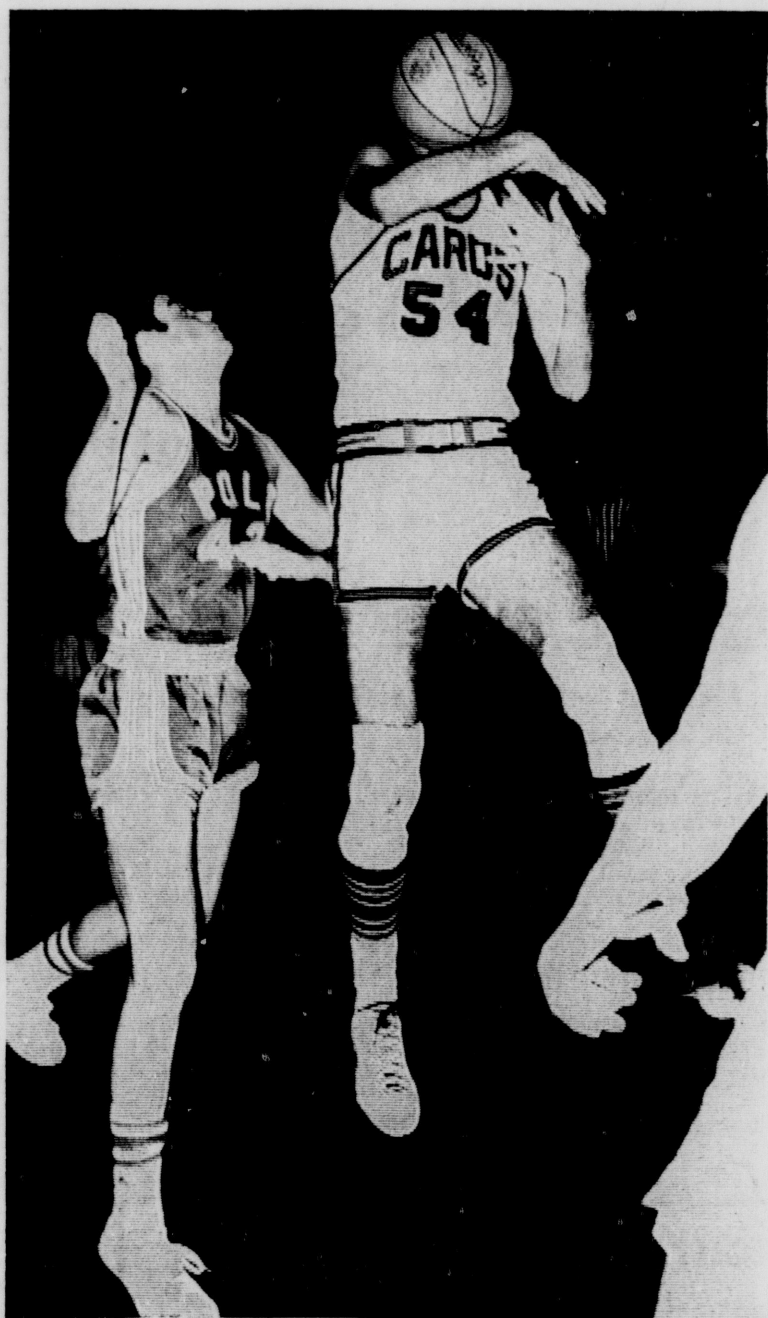

Havana, the hijacker "showed no apprehension whatsoever."

"He mumbled something to the Cuban official, handed over his gun and walked out smiling. It was like he knew what to expect."

FBI agents questioned the crew but asked no questions of the passengers who deplaned here, went through customs, reboarded and flew on to Chicago.

To stewardess Linda Brennan, the hijacking was exciting.

"It was my 21st birthday and I spent it in Cuba," said the New York stewardess, who has been married one month.

Game Goes to His Head

Stillman Valley's Randy Fruin (54) appeared to have a Rawlings head when a Telegraph camera stopped the ball as it passed in front of his face as he was attempting to get a rebound in the championship game of the Polo Holiday Tournament. Watching is Polo's John Phalen (43). Polo won the game 71-44. For complete sports results and photos, see pages 8, 9.

MIAMI (UPI)—A gunman dressed in a pin-striped, double-breasted suit and pink shirt hijacked a New York-to-Chicago jet airliner with 29 persons aboard Friday night and forced it to fly to Cuba.

It was the 59th hijacking of a commercial airliner this year, an escapade that ended safely when the plane returned to the Miami airport early today without the gunman.

The aircraft was a United Air Lines Boeing 727, a three-engine jet costing $4 million that has a capacity of 98. On Friday, however, it was carrying a crew of six and only 23 passengers because the after-Christmas slack in air travel.

After changing crews in Miami, the plane continued with 17 passengers to Chicago. It touched down at 6:48 EST at O'Hare International Airport in Chicago and deplaned its passengers eight minutes later.

United spokesmen identified the gunman only as "M. Martinez."

About 10 minutes out of New York, he pulled a snub-nosed .38 caliber revolver from a brief case and told stewardess Sheila Sneed of East Orange, N.J., "We're going to Cuba. Sit down."

"Very Nice"

Sharon Brodak of New York City, another of three stewardesses on the plane, described the hijacker, as "tall, stocky, dark-haired and very nice."

"He had a Spanish accent and appeared to be well educated," she said.

Capt. Axel Paulsen of New York said the gunman never attempted to enter the cockpit "although we asked him if he wanted to. He said 'no' and that was fine with us because it made it easier."

Paulsen said he at first told the hijacker that they would have to stop at Atlanta for fuel,

Non-Stop

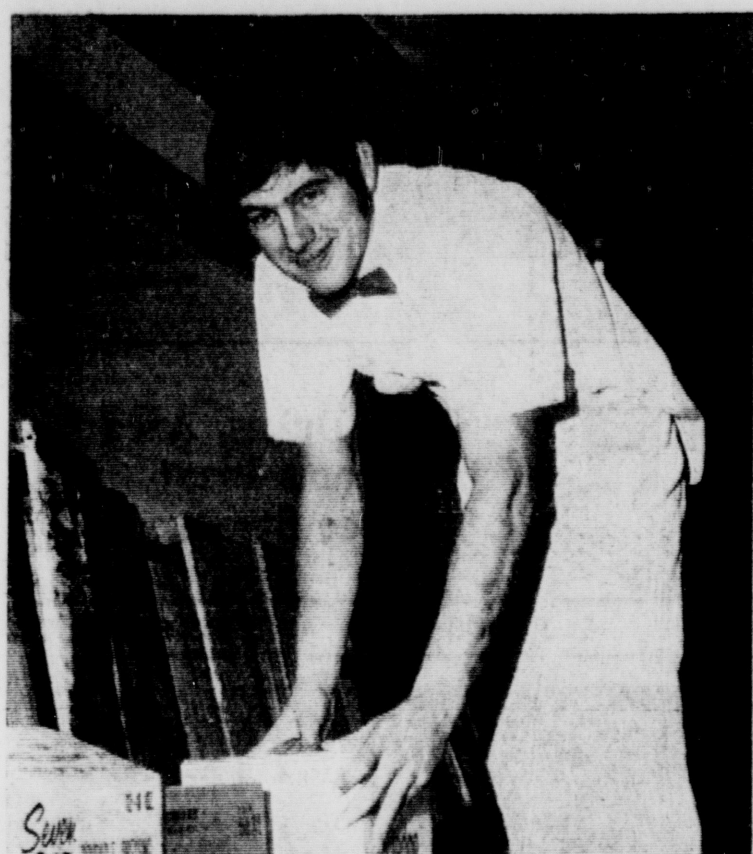

"But he said there would be no fuel stops," Paulsen added. "I figured we wouldn't need any fuel so we didn't try to talk him into a fuel stop in Atlanta."

"He gave no reason for wanting to go to Cuba. He was very rational and nice and spoke good English."

"He said he had come to America from Cuba five years ago."

Paulsen said the airplane was over Wilkes-Barre, Pa., when the gunman seized the aircraft.

Second officer Robert Morton of Middletown, N.Y., said that when the plane landed in

Capture, Not Kill VC

BERRY'S WORLD

Christ's Reality Overshadows Birth

While we must relentlessly seek out the truth at My Lai, whatever horrors that search develops, it is unseemly to turn to self-abasement and accuse ourselves of all manner of wrongs we have not committed.

Take for example, a recent letter to the editor in the New York Times. The writers claim that Operation Phoenix... "is an official policy of our government" in which "we murder civilians employed by the Viet Cong" . . . It is, they say, "as much an atrocity as the murder of 2,300 civilians in Hue" (by the Viet Cong).

It is further alleged that "according to statistics provided by our own government, some 18,000 civilians were killed (in Phoenix) in 1968 and more than 13,000 this year."

Let us analyze these statements.

First, the truth is that more than 84 per cent of 18,000 civilians allegedly killed in the Phoenix program in 1968 and the 13,000 allegedly killed in 1969 were, in fact, captured alive and deserted to our side and are still alive today.

Less than one out of six were killed, and these died resisting arrest—a remarkable low figure when it is remembered that many of these are armed intelligence agents, security men (Gestapo-type, strong-arm types), enforcers, civilian terrorists and assassins. Most are hard-core and armed. Numbers are captured in military operations in VC controlled areas.

Second, the object of Operation Phoenix is to capture, not kill. There are compelling military-political reasons for this. Live prisoners talk; dead men don't. The information and help these cadre give after capture is essential if the core of the underground is to be rooted out and the war won. Note these Phoenix examples:

A South Vietnamese army unit liberates a village long held by the VC accompanied by policemen armed with lists that contain the specific names of 20 out of, say, 35 VC who rule the village. Once captured, these 20 may "sing," implicating their VC comrades.

A Viet Cong district chief is seized with 20 of his bodyguards and operations lieutenants, including the Communist intelligence chief for the area. The capture leads to a stock of valuable enemy intelligence documents.

Hue police receive a tip that a Viet Cong propaganda specialist will attend a particular meeting. Captured en route, he identifies eight other VC cadre. Fifteen more arrests follow.

Third, Phoenix is not aimed at the enemy rank and file or civilians they employ. It is directed at the estimated 80,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese cadre—the brains and power of the terrorist underground organization.

These include those who organize and operate the guerrilla bands, order assassinations, draft young men and women for direct terror campaigns, organize and guerrilla and other military operations, carry out propaganda, collect taxes and run the local hamlet, village, district and provincial undergrounds.

State, Church Issue In Taxing Religious Institutions' Assets

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — American religious forces, already feeling the strain of increasing tax charges, today are mounting broad-scale opposition to a case before the U.S. Supreme Court aimed at abolishing all John C. Marshall: "The power to tax involves the power to destroy."

Both Christian and Jewish leaders maintain the step would curtail many religion-run humanitarian services and cripple this country's founding principle of religious freedom.

"It is one of the most important cases concerning relationships between church and state to come before the Supreme Court in this decade," says the Rev. Dean Kelley, head of the religious liberties department of the National Council of Churches.

He says the lawsuit "goes to the heart of the matter" by challenging tax exemptions for places of worship themselves.

It would give the government the power "to encumber, terminate or alienate" a house of worship by exacting money from it, or to "dispossess the worshippers, if such exactions are not punctually paid in full or cannot be," says a National Council brief filed in the case.

Religious institutions in recent years have come under spreading demands for real estate and other tax payments on various peripheral properties not directly related to religious activities.

In addition, Roman Catholic and most major Protestant and Orthodox bodies, through their joint agencies, have voiced approval of proposals to tax profit-making activities of religious institutions when these are not related to religious functions.

But the legal move to impose taxes on facilities directly connected with religion and its perpetuation has produced widespread opposition.

Some of the objections ringed the declaration of the early 19th century Chief Justice Marshall: "The power to tax involves the power to destroy."

"If governmental agencies attempt to turn churches into a source of revenue for state purposes those attempts constitute restraints on the free exercise of religion," declares the Baptist Joint Committee on Public Affairs, of Washington, D.C.

It and numerous other religious bodies have filed friend-of-the-court briefs in the matter, including:

The Synagogue Council of America, representing the three wings of Judaism; the U.S. Catholic Conference, the national arm of Roman Catholicism, and the National Council, made up of most major Protestant and Orthodox denominations.

The Catholic agency says removal of the exemptions could bring these results, among others:

—Elimination of small churches with few financial resources and foreclosures on others unable to meet tax burdens.

—Impairment of religious liberty, and government interference in church affairs.

—Elimination of church social welfare services, and possible closings of hospitals, old people's homes, orphanages and other such institutions run by churches.

The Catholic brief contends that curtailing the public benefit services by religious organizations would cause a "slack

By DAVID POLING
Charles Dickens runs a close second to the Gospel writers in shaping the celebration of Christmas for the Western world. He brought forth Scrooge with the "Bah! Humbug!" line and then created a conversion to the Christmas spirit that is unequalled in literature or life.

BUT WAS Scrooge all wrong?

Is Christmas the final, absolute, most holy moment in church and society? Without wanting to disturb your plum pudding or drown out the wassail singers, I consider some of the points against merry commercial Christmas worthy of discussion.

IN NOVEMBER, the Atlantic Monthly, in a subscription renewal advertisement, reprinted the 1660 statute from the Massachusetts Colony:

PUBLIC NOTICE
The Observation of Christmas having been deemed a Sacrilege, the exchanging of Gifts and Greetings, dressing in Fine Clothing, Feasting and similar

Satanical Practices are hereby FORBIDDEN

With the Offender liable to a Fine of Five Shillings

That illustration, when used in Christmas sermons, always gets a big laugh from the worshippers who have just spent $1,200 on presents, cards and clothes. But the Puritans were serious and turned to the Bible for the source of their criticism. Not long ago this column received a thoughtful, challenging letter from one reader who seems closer to Scrooge than to shopping plaza promotions. The writer asked:

DID YOU know that our God was not born on Dec. 25 and the early Church did not celebrate his birthday?

"Did you know that Santa Claus, the so-called Christmas tree and the custom of exchanging gifts came from paganism and is condemned by our Bible?"

"SOMETIMES we hear the slogan, 'Let's Put Christ Back into Christmas.' Well, how can we put Christ back into something when He was never there? Nowhere does our Bible state that we Christians must or should observe any day of the week or the year . . . The virgin birth of our Lord is a blessed fact, but the Christmas celebration is a wrong thing for us to do."

IN ANSWER to these questions, as well as to the Puritan in all of us, one has to say that the Christian experience is not confined to the Bible. Some 16 centuries of living has been going on in the household of faith since they closed the doors on the "official" Bible. Much of this will reflect the folkways of our culture just as the scripture writers were children of their own times. As Paul Tillich used to say, it doesn't matter if you pick Dec. 25 or Jan. 9 or some other date for the birth of Christ — he was born and we celebrate the reality of his presence in the world.

IF SANTA CLAUS and the Christmas trees and gift-swapping is paganism, why stop there? Much of the music and architecture and liturgy of the church can be found to exist in the secular world long before Christians discovered their presence — and worth.

I HAVE TO agree that the scriptures do not regulate or dictate any special observance of Christ's birthday. But this has permitted a great deal of freedom within the Christian family so that the Feast of the Three Kings is just as meaningful in Latin America as the midnight Mass is for you and yours. Or theirs.

Challenge, Response

Far into the future, man assuredly will be looking back upon the year just ended as one of the most momentous in all history.

It was in 1969 that man—and to be proudly exact, American man—first walked upon another world.

Challenged for eons by the immensity of a universe beyond the confines of his own small planet, it will be forever recorded that in this year he responded with a giant leap that set earthbound commentators reaching back far beyond mere human achievements to the creation itself for suitably superlative comparisons.

And so, we might well be asking ourselves at this turn of a year, what can 1970, or for that matter any of the so many years yet to come, possibly do for an encore?

The moon landing was indeed a dramatic and significant achievement, rightfully dominating imaginations of men everywhere as well as other events of an eventful year.

But even more, it was a spectacular demonstration of just how successfully man can respond once he accepts a challenge and channels will and energies toward a solution.

And as we know all too well, challenges seeking solutions abound.

To take only the most obvious examples, there is the question of whether we can successfully meet the ultimate challenge—our own survival—by mastering our own destructive forces. The year just past brought a cautiously hopeful start of a search by the two superpowers for an escape from the costly and potentially disastrous nuclear arms race. But this is as yet only the beginning of the beginning.

At home Americans have yet to prove that the dream of a truly just and equal society can be realized without rending the very structure of society beyond recognition and repair. And can we find the way and summon the will to curb our abuse of earth, air and water before we, along with our environment, succumb to our own pollution?

Opportunities for an encore obviously are not lacking. Any year that sees success in these and other equally crucial endeavors will be memorable in the human story which, at basis, is the continuing interplay of challenge and response.

The challenges never cease. Men must never cease responding.

Hazardous Yule Toys

'Tis the season to be not only merry but, unfortunately, wary.

Of toys, to be specific.

In a grim note to sound in an otherwise joyous season, safety organizations estimate that approximately 19,000 children in the United States will lose their lives between this Christmas and next as a result of accidents with toys. And the averages say another 40-to-50,000 are likely to be crippled.

Of particular concern are projectiles—bows and arrows, pop and blow guns, darts, explosive caps, inflammable materials, and power-operated toys, where overheating or defective wiring can be dangers.

Santa may already have arrived, but it's never too late to police the playing. The statistics are anything but playful.

Cpl. Arthur M. Lee, Route 4, a cannoneer, is a member of the 135th Infantry Regiment, which recently marked its 338th day in combat. The regiment, a unit of the 34th "Red Bull" Division with Gen. Mark Clark's Fifth Army in Italy, has been in foreign service continuously for more than 2½ years.

Pvt. John Babich, Franklin Grove, a member of an armored division and wounded in France, has been awarded the Purple Heart at an English hospital.

50 YEARS AGO
The Continental Hatchery Co., of Polo, a newly formed company, plans a plant capable of hatching 20,000 eggs a day during the hatching season.

The members of the fire department were the recipients of two boxes of cigars for Christmas. The Stratton & Covert firm sent one box and the other was received from the Rowland drug store for which the department members are very grateful.

"There's a Fellow Here Who Says He Wants to SAVE Lives!"

When Man Dies Not as Important As How He Lived

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — It is essential at this time that we get our values straight.

What we are concerned with as human beings is not death. We all die. More Americans are killed in automobile accidents than will die in Vietnam. We regularly eat so much or drink and smoke things that shorten our lives, as any doctor will tell us.

WHAT WE are concerned with is the dignity and respect for men. How a man dies. And for what he dies.

Many Vietnamese have taken jobs as hamlet chiefs when they knew it meant almost certain death for themselves and for their wives or children. This reporter once was in a hamlet where in the eight previous months five hamlet chiefs had been selected and four kidnapped and killed. Yet new men came forward. Death was less important to these men than the right of their hamlet to govern itself.

WE KNOW that in Russia, in mainland China, in Nazi Germany many men voluntarily persisted in acting and writing in ways that meant certain death because truth to them was more important than being assured of breathing another few years.

BUT WE don't need to go to our history books to know that men and women will die for what they believe. We all of us have seen it in the lives of our neighbors, our friends and our families.

ALL OF us, when we think of it, are willing to give our lives. We are not that afraid of death.

At the time of World War II, this reporter, who is certainly no hero, had Japanese friends so close that for some, as individuals, he would have been willing to die. He respected the Japanese people. He was deferred in the draft. He had to sign a physical waiver to get in, but he volunteered for the war to fight the Japanese enemy. Because, along with many other men, he believed a principle at stake was more important than life. He still loves those Japanese friends and they him.

SO IT IS WITH Vietnam. If we believe, as this reporter does, that the right of a people not to be taken by force is at issue, then we must be there.

If you believe the contrary, that this is a war to further selfish interests, then you must hold that we should not be in Vietnam and that the war is wrong.

WHAT MATTERS then is something more than death or life. What matters is that we carry out our beliefs.

THIS REPORTER keeps thinking of the people he knows in Vietnam who, even as you and I, want to rear their children, hoping that they will have a better education and a better chance than their parents. They are tired of war as only a people can be who have been in war all their lives, so that sometimes they wonder if it will ever end. But still they go on because they have learned there is no other way if a man is to live by what he believes for his family, himself and his children.

PICTURE the thoughts of the father who saw his five-year-old daughter come back to his village, walking slowly down the road, with her hands cut off and a warning sign on her chest that worse would happen unless he co-operated. Yet he stood his ground, through what agony no man will ever know.

AS ONE man has said, somebody has got to do something.

We have got to try. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

IMPORTANT: PLEASE TAKE TIME TO READ THE STORY BEHIND THIS WONDERFUL "HAPPENING" — FIND OUT HOW WE ARE ABLE TO OFFER YOU FAMOUS BRAND FURNISHINGS AT BARGAIN PRICES FOR 3 MORE DAYS ONLY!

Often the last week of the year (the week after Christmas) is a bit dull around here. We normally rest up a bit, look forward to the New Year, and bid a grateful farewell to the old one. NOT SO THIS YEAR! This last week of 1969 will be spent doing what we do best and love most—selling beautiful home furnishings. Savings will be offered to "clear the house"; and to end our fine sales year of 1969 in a real blaze of glory. This great sale, our "13th MONTH SALE" will be a "plus" business sale. So, we are paring prices, making a smaller profit on each sale, and gladly passing the savings along to you. Prices will be inviting!

● ENJOY SPECIAL BARGAINS ON CLEARANCE MERCHANDISE

You'll see "Super Bargains" on special clearance merchandise. You may notice some superior quality furnishings that were selling very well a few weeks ago at regular prices—selling these last 5 days of 1969 at a sacrifice! Some wonderful discontinued items will be offered, some gorgeous, one-of-a-kinds, some unmatched floor samples! ALL AT GREAT REDUCTIONS!

● GREAT MANUFACTURERS GET INTO THE ACT

In planning this event to make it "the greatest", we sought the help of some of America's great manufacturers. We agreed to take extra first-quality merchandise from them for this sale—if they agreed to make prices attractive enough. Since this is a bit of a "slack" period for furniture craftsmen too, they were happy to accommodate us. The result of our careful bargaining will be delightfully apparent to you! You'll see splendid special purchases here, there and everywhere in our store.

● REDUCTIONS ON OUR REGULAR STOCK MERCHANDISE

Just to sweeten the sale a bit more, we've cut prices on much of our regular stock. These are of course popular items by famous brand manufacturers you know and trust. Come see the sumptuous upholstered furniture with wear-tested fabrics. See carefully crafted case goods finished in special new techniques that rival costly custom originals. Also bedding, carpet, and occasional items—unique and interesting.

● RESOLVE TO MAKE 1970 YOUR YEAR TO ENJOY THOSE FURNISHINGS YOU'VE WAITED FOR

NOW is the time to act, if you want to save money! We've tagged these hundreds of items to be whisked away by happy, discerning people. We thus reduce our stock and inventories for the New Year — while you make our "13TH MONTH SALE" a once-in-a-blue-moon blessing for your home. Obey that impulse — and get MUCH MORE FOR YOUR MONEY HERE AND NOW. Don't delay — the big "13TH MONTH SALE" starts tomorrow.

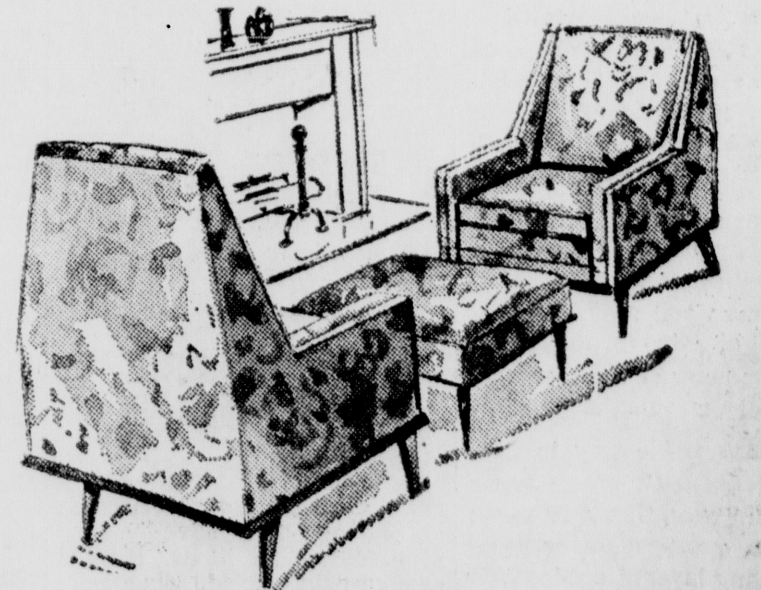

THIS IS JUST A PARTIAL LISTING OF THE DAZZLING ARRAY OF SUPER BARGAINS YOU'LL FIND AT AMES! 3 MORE DAYS! BUT DON'T DELAY! DON'T MISS OUT! BRIGHTEN YOUR HOME WITH AN INSPIRED PURCHASE AT AMES!

Sift-Diehl Nuptial Vows

MOUNT MORRIS — White bridal satin and eyelet lace fashioned the floor-length gown worn by Miss Cheryl Sift, daughter of the Martin Sifts, Mount Morris, when she became the bride of James B. Diehl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Diehl, Rt. 1, Dec. 13 in Trinity Lutheran Church.

The double-ring wedding was performed at 5 p.m. by Rev. Ralph Ryberg, pastor of the church, and Miss Christy Horst, nuptial organist, accompanied Mrs. Warren Reckmeyer as she sang "We'll Walk With God" and "This Is God's Love."

Memory Candle

Decorations for the candle-light ceremony included altar bouquets of red carnations and white pompons, and the altar also held a memory candle, which was lighted by the bridal couple during the service.

The lace empire bodice of the bride's gown, which she designed and made, featured elbow-length bell sleeves and a white velvet belt accented by a lace bow. The gown's A-line skirt was complemented by a satin panel train overlaid with lace. The train, which fell from a waistline back-bow, ended in an insertion of velvet and lace ruffles, and her bridal veil of bouffant illusion tiers was attached to a headpiece of two lace bows edged with velvet. The bouquet she carried as she approached the altar with her father, combined a simulated rose of hand-wired white gladioli petals, three red Sweetheart roses and satin streamers.

Miss Jeanette Smith, who attended the bride as maid of honor, was attired in a full-length empire gown of deep-blue velvet styled with wrist-length sleeves of pastel-blue velvet and a matching belt ending in a back-bow and long streamers. The gown, made by Miss Smith, was complemented by a matching velvet-bow headdress trimmed with pastel-blue veiling, and her flowers were long-stemmed red and white roses.

Dale Drexler, Polo, served as the bridegroom's best man, and wedding guests from Mount Morris, Dixon, Rockford, Loves Park, Leaf River, Winnebago, Pecatonica, Polo, New Athens and from Friendship and La Crosse, Wis., and Garrison, Iowa, were ushered by David Baker, Dixon; James Weaver, Polo, and Thomas Kincannon, Rockford.

Christmas decorations trimmed the church fellowship hall, where a reception was held following the ceremony. A tiered wedding cake centering the refreshment table was served by Miss Kathy Zellers and Miss Jan Zellers; gifts for the couple were displayed by Miss Sheila Rock and guests were registered by Miss Barbara Walker.

Wedding Trip

When the newlyweds left on a wedding trip to Canada, Niagara Falls and the eastern states, the new Mrs. Diehl was wearing a lace-trimmed white wool dress with white accessories. A graduate of Winnebago High School and Alberto's Institute of Cosmetology, Rockford, she was employed by her parents, owners of the Satellite Drive-In, prior to her marriage.

Mr. Diehl graduated from Mount Morris High School and the Morrison Institute of Drafting and Technology, and is presently serving in the Navy aboard the USS Intrepid stationed at Quanset Point, R.I., where they will be residing.

Monet's Charms

Charms for luck, love, fond wishes, shared fun and memories are just a sampling of the multitude of special meaning to be found in Monet's new vast and varied collection.

Designed with clever, easy-to-attach snap rings they can move from beloved bracelets to neck chains and ropes with the greatest of ease. Crafted in the golden manner of the real, they make very meaningful gifts.

The fashionable way to wear costume jewelry ropes is by the yard — in twos, threes or more; tossed over a pendant or tassel for a many layered put-together look, and tied round the waist. The rope, always a versatile accessory, is just the thing to "tie up" the new fashions.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES B. DIEHL

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Our four-year-old child is diabetic. The only difference between her and the children she plays with is that she must stay on a restricted diet, eat regularly and take insulin every day.

We enrolled her in playschool, three mornings a week. She loved being with the other children and looked forward to going. After three weeks, the school told us they didn't want her because she was a "burden." It was too much trouble, they said, to give her a 10 a.m. snack and extra candy before strenuous play. They said they wanted only normal children who presented no problems.

Our little girl was heartbroken. She cried for three days. It was impossible to explain why they didn't want her. For two years we have worked hard to make her feel she was no different than anyone else, and now this had to happen. Why?

Dear Atlanta: There's a possibility that the school feared a lawsuit if something happened to your daughter while she was in their care. This contingency might have been eliminated, however, had you and your husband signed a release.

From the humanitarian point of view the school gets very low marks. I do hope there is another playschool in your area.

Belts, chains and tasseled cords in gay profusion have become popular fashion items. Printed handkerchiefs folded diagonally and tied together at the hips add another colorful note. Irish linen hankies in earth tones accent this brown velvet shirt-dress by Evelyn Sini for Siletto.

where your child can be enrolled as soon as possible.

Dear Ann Landers: For reasons which are nobody's business, my husband and I do not have any children, nor do we wish to have any. The problem — how to cope with people who persist in prodding us with questions regarding our childless state.

We don't want to be rude, but on the other hand we resent being made uncomfortable by nosy clods. Please tell us what to say to discourage these people. — Nettled And Irritated

Dear N and I: An effective response to a None-Of-Their-Business-type query is as follows: Look the person in the eye and say, "You have just asked me an extremely personal question. I will forgive you for asking if you will forgive me for not answering."

This should melt the bridge-work of even the brassiest clod. Bobby Goldman's jump to four spades was somewhat of a gamble, since he could not tell how light Billy Eisenberg's two-spade reopener might have been.

Actually, Bobby hoped that his opponents would try a five-diamond sacrifice. He knew he could pick up a nice profit if they saved against him but Dick Walsh and John Swanson didn't fall into that trap.

Billy ruffed the second diamond and looked the hand over. He could see two club losers, as well as the diamond already lost, so the queen of spades presented a real problem. You can see that queen nestling happily in the East hand. Billy couldn't but it didn't make any difference to him, since he played the hand in such a manner as to avoid having to locate Her Majesty.

At trick three, he led the duce of clubs and played dummy's eight. East won and did the best he could by returning the suit. Billy won in dummy, played ace-king and another heart to ruff in dummy. Then he ruffed a third diamond in his hand. East couldn't afford to let his last heart go, since that would allow Billy to play ace and king of trumps and then discard dummy's last club on the 13th heart, so East chuckled a club. Now Billy ruffed his last heart, led and ruffed another diamond and had eight tricks in while still holding the two top trumps.

CLEAN SILVER

Extremely hot, soap or detergent suds will help to keep silver as shiny as a jewelry store window. Little if any polishing is necessary for silver that's used every day, and washed regularly in hot suds. A scalding hot rinse makes silver dry faster, and speeds up the final buffing with a soft dry cloth.

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK (NEA) — Rain needn't dampen your holiday spirits. For with this season's rainwear you can go out in a downpour and still look smashing.

A raincoat can be an evening coat, a theater coat, a stadium coat or a flattering storm coat.

Tent Shape

There's a trench coat, for example, cut in a modified tent shape in a pile-lined polyester and cotton poplin. When worn with the tie-belt it has wonderful, swingy, full-skirted look. And what really finishes it off in style is a big raccoon collar.

Then there's the "hunting look" in a Dacron and cotton fly-front coat with optional matching pants. It's practical for cold days because the outer fabric is bonded to polyester fiberfill for lightweight warmth.

For those who like to dazzle in the rain, there are the glistening "wet look" raincoats. In a double-breasted style with patch pockets it's a great look and the fabric in the new wet look Raincheetas is both breathable and dry-cleanable.

One straight navy velour with side-zip closing and wide low belt has a dramatic funnel collar that can be worn turned up as a stovepipe or rolled into an envelope collar with red facing offering contrast.

Two of the most striking silhouettes are a military, pile-lined cape and a regal, double-breasted maxi with shaped back and a full sweep in the skirt. Another maxi comes in white dauphine satin with huge collar and cuffs of white fox.

Vibrant Prints

Prints explode in vibrant hues and bold geometrics. And a screen-printed cotton velveteen coat with co-ordinating dress reflects a magnificent depth of color in shocking pinks and reds that are further enriched by an overlay of Schiffli embroidery.

Other glamorous evening styles include moires, tissue failles and satins.

There are a lot of fashionable reasons for not coming in out of the rain during the holiday season.

One way to win team-of-four matches is to bid all close games and then play the dummy well enough to bring the contract home.

Bobby Goldman's jump to four spades was somewhat of a gamble, since he could not tell how light Billy Eisenberg's two-spade reopener might have been.

Actually, Bobby hoped that his opponents would try a five-diamond sacrifice. He knew he could pick up a nice profit if they saved against him but Dick Walsh and John Swanson didn't fall into that trap.

East couldn't afford to let his last heart go, since that would allow Billy to play ace and king of trumps and then discard dummy's last club on the 13th heart, so East chuckled a club. Now Billy ruffed his last heart, led and ruffed another diamond and had eight tricks in while still holding the two top trumps.

East wound up making a trump trick but he ruffed his partner's queen of clubs, so the trump trick was just an illusion and didn't do him any good. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

High-Style Coats for Sunshine or Showers

Ideally suited to holiday happenings, the lustrous moire coat (left) features deeply-notched revers and large flapped pockets with inverted center pleats. It is equally adaptable to sunshine or showers. The double-knit coat (right) is closely fitted through the high-yoked bodice, and flares from the yoke for subtle shaping. A deep pleat lends added back fullness, and sleeves bell slightly at the wrist. These Raincheetas by Naman are protected by a Zepel rain-and-stain finish.

At Holiday Meals

Should Children Eat Separately?

Should children eat holiday dinners at a separate table? This is a question that plagues many mothers during the holidays and unfortunately, there is no pat answer.

Ideally, of course, says the Good Housekeeping Institute, children who are old enough to be on a diet of solid food should take their meals with adults during the holidays. The holidays, traditionally, are a family time and often they are the only occasions when various relatives gather together.

Allowing children to eat at the same table not only gives them a chance to be with seldom-seen relatives, it also eliminates many cooking and serving problems. If children eat before the adults, keeping the turkey and vegetables fresh and warm until the adults are ready to sit down can be a problem.

After a busy day of opening and playing with new presents, and greeting favorite relatives, children are likely to work up an appetite sooner than adults. If you plan to feed the whole family at once, make sure the children have a large breakfast or lunch, whichever precedes the dinner, to keep them from clamoring to be fed until the adults are ready to eat.

When it is impossible to feed the whole family together — perhaps you don't have the room or the table space — don't worry about it. Youngsters will not feel cheated or deprived if parents explain why they are eating at a separate table.

Large family dinners can put a strain on the supply of dinnerware. If you don't have enough, give the children holiday-decorated paper plates, plastic tableware and paper napkins.

When you are cramped for space, but still want to have the adults and children sit together, a buffet may be a good idea. The family will be broken into smaller groups, which will require extra tables, but it will give children and adults an opportunity to sit and talk with each other.

Polly's Pointers

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY—I really need help. Yesterday, when I was changing the sheets on my bed, I left the room for a very short time and came back to find my two-year-old had used my lipstick to draw a map on the beautiful, new mattress. It just spreads more and more when I try to remove it. I would be most grateful if someone can help me with this problem. —MARY

DEAR POLLY—Unless one has the time and can knit small mittens, it is next to impossible to find them tiny enough for babies up to six months old. I solved this by using booties for mittens. Usually, babies have more booties than they can use and they outgrow them so fast. The booties tie are perfect for tying them around the wrists to keep them on and baby's fingers stay toasty-warm.

Also, if stretch sleepers are too long, put booties on either under the sleepers (stretchy material won't slip off the feet then) or put them on over the feet of the sleepers to keep the long legs from coming down around the ankles. —R. C.

DEAR POLLY—Take a spring clothespin along when you go to market and pin your shopping list to the back of the shopping cart or basket. I first saw this done by a lady walking with a cane who needed both hands free. —MRS. J. F. M.

DEAR POLLY—A pillowcase placed over the leaf of your sewing machine will keep soft materials such as rayon, nylon and polished cotton from sliding as you sew. —VIOLET

DEAR POLLY—I want to tell G. A. A. that the Department of Agriculture Research Service suggests wiping an article with mildew on it with a cloth just moistened with a solution of one-cup denatured or rubbing alcohol and one-cup water. Dry in an airy place. —R. B. K.

DEAR POLLY—I would like to suggest that G. A. A. try keeping an ordinary electric light bulb on in her damp clothes closet. If there is no outlet, an extension cord can be used. This should prevent further trouble. The size of the closet determines the size of the bulb and a very large closet may require two lighted bulbs until the dampness has disappeared. They should be left lighted day and night until all is entirely dry and from then on a very small, burning bulb should keep things dry. Be careful the bulb does not come in contact with anything in the closet or does not touch the wall. —CELLA

LUNCH UNIT

For lunch-carriers who want hot and cold food at the same meal, there's a new product that combines a wide-mouth vacuum bottle, for hot foods, soups and beverages, with an insulated snack jar for cold salads and desserts. The two snap together with a ring to be carried as a single unit. Each part also can be used separately.

Attractive And Tasty Ham Sauce

The holiday season brings forth a rainbow of jewel-like colors. Don't let the shimmering reds, golds and greens abound only in your decorations. Jewelled Ham Sauce will bring these glorious hues to your dining table in a most-delicious way. If a baked ham is the mainstay of your New Year's Day feast, here is a tasty and attractive way to compliment its flavor.

Tangy and golden with the addition of mustard, Jewelled Ham Sauce is loaded with pineapple chunks, green pepper and red cherries. It is easy to prepare and sure to please family and friends.

JEWELLED HAM SAUCE

1 can (1 lb. 4 1/2 oz.) pineapple chunks
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup coarsely chopped green pepper
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
12 maraschino cherries, sliced
Drain juice from pineapple into measuring cup. Combine sugar, cornstarch, and salt in saucepan; add juice, stirring constantly. Cook and stir, over medium heat until mixture begins to thicken. Add green pepper and mustard. Continue cooking until mixture is thick. Stir in pineapple and cherries. Heat thoroughly. Serve hot over sliced ham or ham steak. Makes about 3 cups of sauce.

Even the Weatherman Is Snowbound on East Coast

By United Press International
Winter sports enthusiasts were able to take advantage of their Christmas presents and vacations in much of the Northeast today as the fourth winter storm in two weeks continued to shake up to 24 inches of snow from Maine to New York.
Nonenthusiasts hated it. Several thousand persons were trapped at New York's Kennedy and LaGuardia Airports and at the Newark, N.J., Airport Friday. And about 4,000 others were stranded at Chicago's O'Hare International Airport when flights to the East were cancelled.

Even the weatherman was snowbound. George Bulgarelli and his three-man meteorological staff were cut off at their Pittsfield, Mass., station by a 15-inch snowfall.

Augusta, Maine, had 11 inches of snow in a six hour period Friday night bringing its total to 24 inches from the storm. Snow continued to fall in parts of New Hampshire and Vermont, while heavy rain caused some flooding in Massachusetts, Rhode Island and Connecticut.
Winds and Woes
New York Mayor John V. Lindsay cut short his vacation in the Bahamas and flew back to the city to consult with the Sanitation Department when the first big winter storm hit the city.

Gale warnings were posted from Virginia Beach, Va., to Easport, Maine. A weather station at Matinicus, Maine, reported 60 mile an hour winds. And as temperatures rose, snow changed to rain and fog, further clogging airports and highways. Nantucket, Mass., had more than 2 inches of rain and Boston more than 1 inch Friday night.

Another storm took shape in the Southwest early today, spreading snow from the southern Rockies to the Central Plains. Rain and showers continued to dampen post-Christmas cheer along the north Pacific Coast.

Overnight temperatures dipped to zero or below from Minnesota and the Dakotas to northwest Illinois in the wake of the eastern storm. Rain from the Southwest pushed eastward as far as southern Illinois.
Some showers were expected from southern Texas to the Gulf of Mexico region while snow flurries were likely from the lower Great Lakes to northern New England.

The rest of the nation enjoyed fair to partly cloudy and dry weather as the new year approached, although temperatures dropped from the Southwest to the western Midlands. Snowfall from the eastern storm ranged from 15 inches at Glen Falls, N.Y., to 11 inches at Montpelier, Vt. Tides along the New England coast ran 2 to 3 feet above normal with seas running as high as 10 to 12 feet.

State Police Report Area Accidents

George Brechon, 23, Franklin Grove; Richard Friel, 17, Oregon; and Scott Hufford, 17, Grand Rapids, Mich., are reported in fair condition today, according to officials at KSB Hospital, following an accident at 10:15 a.m. Friday.

Friel told State Police that he was driving his auto north on a gravel road, three miles south of Lost Nation, when a car being driven by Brechon came over a hill at a high rate of speed and almost hit the Friel auto head-on.

Hufford was a passenger in the auto being driven by Friel.

Police are investigating the accident.

STEWART — Two Stewart youths are in satisfactory condition today, according to officials at Rochelle Community General Hospital, following an accident Friday at 10:35 p.m. on U.S. 51 at the Stewart Road.

Luther Hayes, 20, driver of the auto, and his passenger, Bruce Blackwell, were west-bound on the Stewart Road and, according to State Police, the Hayes auto failed to stop for a stop sign and struck the trailer of a semi being driven by David Hipp, 36, Rockford, who was uninjured.

The trailer sustained $300 damage and the Hayes auto received $1,000 damage.

Hayes was ticketed for disobeying stop sign.

Suspected Killer To Be Returned to Illinois

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — Illinois officials say they expect a quick return from Tennessee of Kenneth Rogers, 26, charged with the murder of his wife, a teen-age girl and another woman.

Rogers was arrested in Covington, Tenn., Friday. Officers said Rogers waived extradition while in a Covington hospital where he was being treated for a deep cut in his left wrist. He was listed in good condition.

Officers said Rogers had told them he had tried to kill himself.

Rogers was sought in the deaths of his bride of three months, Wilma, 22; her companion, Miss Barbara Case, 25, and Lisa Levering, 14, a Carbondale high school freshman.

All three had a strangulation marks on their necks, police said. The bodies of his wife and Miss Case were found in the Rogers' trailer near Cartersville, Ill., Christmas Day. The body of Miss Levering was found Dec. 1 on a rural road near Carbondale.

Rogers is being returned to Illinois from Tennessee on a charge of murdering Miss Levering "while committing the forcible felony of rape," said Richard Richman, state's attorney for Jackson County, Tenn.

Tennessee Highway Patrol Lt. Jerry Simmons said Rogers, a painter and assistant manager of a Carbondale bookstore, was unarmed and offered no resistance when captured.

"I saw the man walking along Tennessee 14, eight miles east of Covington, and he fit the description we had been given," Simmons said. "I asked him if he was Kenneth Rogers and he said he was. I asked him if he was from Carbondale, Ill., and he said, 'I am.'"

Miss Case's car was found Thursday near Ripley, Tenn., the front seat and floor spattered with blood.

Sheriff Lewis Gitchell of Lauderdale County said a handwritten, unsigned note found in the car said: "I killed Lisa Levering. I killed Barb and my wife. I am sick, very sick."

Burglary Is Investigated

City Police are today investigating a burglary at Jones' Barber Shop, located in the basement of 102 W. First St.

The unknown burglar apparently kicked in the front door of the shop and stole an estimated $25-$30 in change.

Ticket Issued

It was inadvertently stated in The Telegraph Wednesday that Thomas Ball, 18, Ashton, was arrested by State Police for failure to reduce speed, following an accident Tuesday at 11:55 a.m. on U.S. Alt. 30.

The statement should have read, Ball was ticketed by police.

Elks Say Scholarships Available

The monetary value of college scholarships to be awarded deserving students has been increased, according to E. S. Wadsworth, exalted ruler of the Dixon Elks' Lodge.

The Elks National Foundation has increased the national total from $181,000 to $194,800. Wadsworth said. In addition, 338 $600 scholarships will be awarded to states, making a grand total of $397,600. Award amounts will range from $600 — $2,500. More than 538 students will be rewarded for scholastic efforts.

Of the special $600 scholarships available to individual states, Illinois will award scholarships to 21 students.

Application blanks for the scholarship contest will be distributed by the superintendents of educational service regions in Lee and Ogle Counties to student counselors at Dixon, Amboy, Lee Center, Polo, Rochelle, Franklin Center, Ashton, Oregon, Mount Morris, and Forreston High Schools.

Additional application blanks can be obtained by contacting James Brand or Phil Hornung of the Dixon Elks Youth Activities Committee or G. Laverie Finch, secretary. All applications must be completed and returned to the committee by Feb. 14, 1970.

Scholarship judges for the local contest include Arlen "Andy" Stewart, chairman; Dr. W. S. Rybak, John Torrens, Joe Dempsey, all Dixon; Herb Faber, Polo; Morris Forman, Amboy; Ronald Dvorak, Ashton; Wes Herwig, Franklin Grove; and Charles Dietler, Rt. 4, Dixon.

Sauk Valley Triumphs, Faces Highland Today

FREEPORT — With five players finishing in double figures, the Sauk Valley Redmen snapped a five-game losing streak as they defeated Triton College 94-84 Friday in the opening round of the Highland College Classic Holiday tournament Friday night. The triumph, a near-duplicate of an earlier conquest of Triton this season by the Redmen, pits the winners against hosting Highland at 1 p.m. today, with the championship final slated for 9 tonight.

Larry Fell paced the winners with 22 points, while Linwood Chatic totaled 19 points. Phil Smith added 14 points to the cause, while Pete Jahn and Mike Howe each hit for 12. Sharing scoring honors for the losers were Frank Montgomery and Mike Dudzik, each of whom ripped the nets for 23 points.

Opening Win
The Redmen opened their 1969-70 season with a 95-90 win over Triton in a game played at Dixon High School.

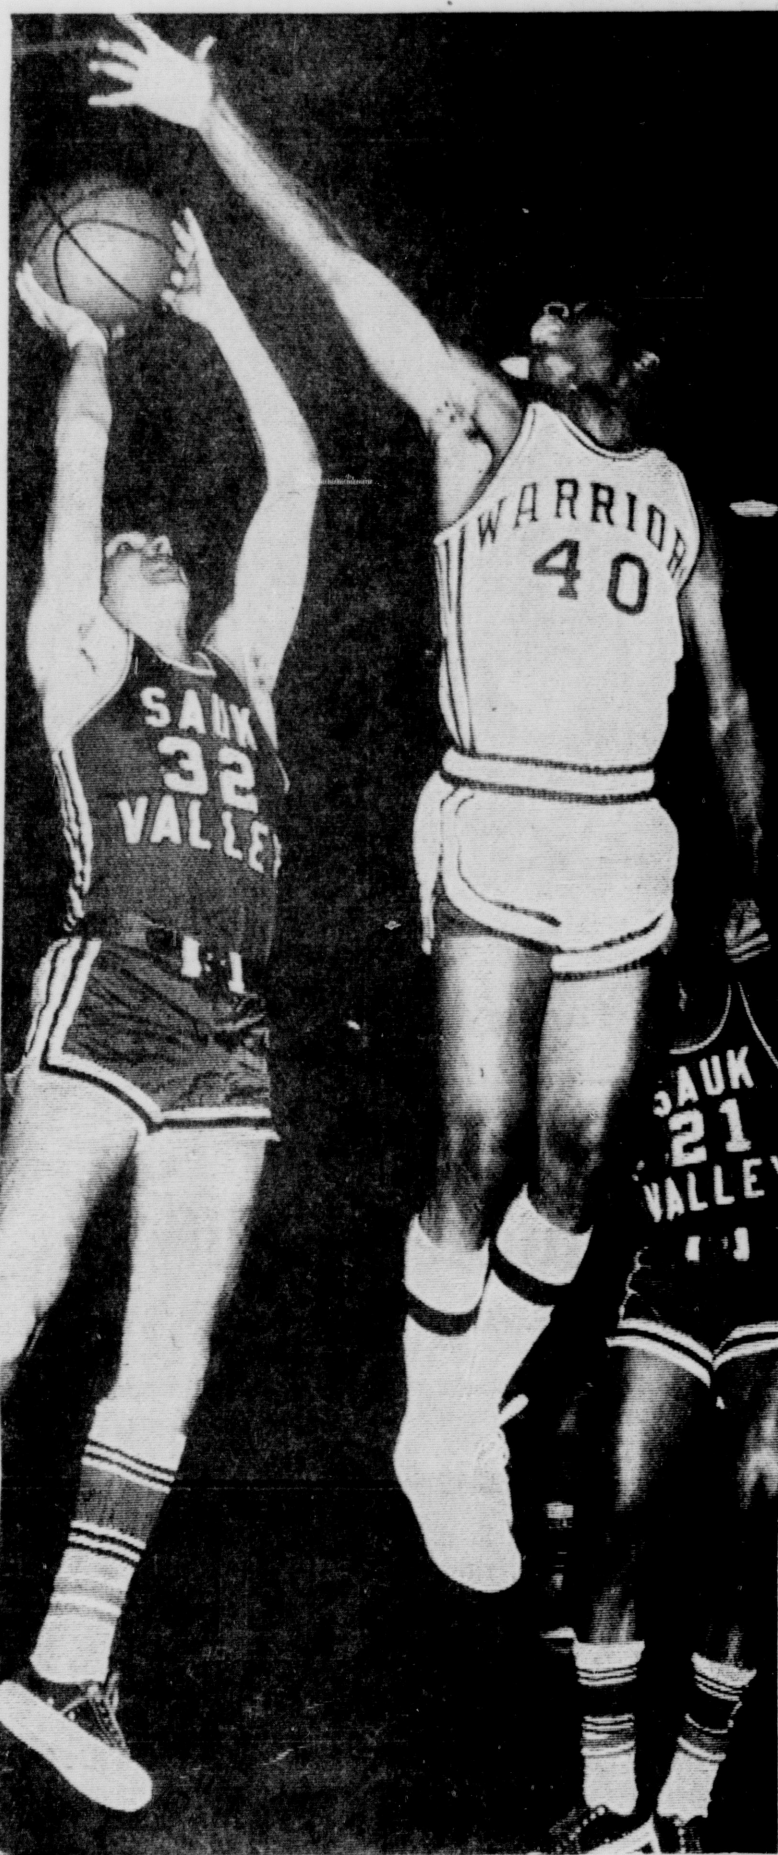

Coach Frank Palumbo's charges jumped to a 22-14 lead early in the game Friday with freshman Fell leading the way. The winners maintained a 10-point advantage at halftime, 43-33.

The second-half action saw-sawed back and forth, with each team scoring almost at will. The Redmen succeeded in breaking Triton's zone press on a number of occasions and received numerous easy lay-ins, with the Warriors unable to close the gap.

Highland Community College nipped Lincolnland by a narrow 94-92 margin late Friday night, setting the stage for their semi-final game against Sauk Valley today.

Pardon My Reach

Sauk Valley's Mike Howe is about to have his shot blocked by the outstretched arm of Triton College's Frank Montgomery in action taking place during the Redmen's triumph in first round action of Highland Classic Tourney. The Redmen met the hosting team today at 1 p.m., and will play again tonight in either the finals or a consolation game.

Rockford Guilford Is Dixon Foe on Monday

ROCKFORD — The Dixon Dukes blazed their way to a shattering conquest of undermanned Galena in the first round of the Rockford Classic Holiday Tournament Friday night with a lopsided 93-63 rout. The win pits the Dukes against Rockford Guilford at 7 p.m. Monday.

In improving their season record to 3-5, the Dukes overwhelmed their foe from the very outset, taking leads of 8-0, 20-6 and 30-9 — the latter score coming at the end of the first quarter's play. With the score 46-15 and with two minutes and five seconds left to go in the first half, Coach Dick Franklin began substituting liberally.

Largest Margin
The halftime margin was 59-28, easily the largest margin the Dukes have enjoyed in any game to date. The Pirates, who had come into the game with a 3-3 overall mark, were able to shoot from the field only on an incredibly low 17 occasions, and managed to sink only seven. They were successful, however, on 14 free-throw attempts.

The Dukes, on the other hand, were enjoying one of their better nights, percentage-wise. Hitting on 15 of 20 charity tosses, the Dukes also converted on 22 of 44 field shots; they totaled five more successes than their opponent did shots. Most of the Dukes' early scoring was handled by reliable Jim Heintzelman and steady Brad Kipping, who each pushed in 12 points, while Bernie Lendman connected for seven.

Starters Leave
The five Dixon players who started the game also were on hand at the outset of the second half, but departed two minutes later as the substitutes came in to relieve them.

Once again, Heintzelman garnered high-scoring honors for Dixon, as he totaled 16 points despite playing little more than a half. Tying for runnerup honors for the winners were Kipping and Roger Coleman, the pair of all-conference football players. Coleman turned in a fine all-around game, with 10 of his points coming in the first half of action. Coleman and Kipping finished with 14 points. No other Duke managed double figures, but every player on the squad scored.

Near Record
The Dukes were apparently in reach of the tourney's single-game scoring record — set at 109 by Chicago Harlan in 1965 — but Coach Franklin was obviously much more interested in valuable playing time for his reserves than in running up the score over the U.S. Grant Conference team.

The Pirates, who consider themselves basically a team of the future as they have a large number of underclassmen on their team, were led by Sid Sincock and Don Larey, the only Galena players in double figures. Sincock tied Heintzelman for game-scoring honors with 16 points, while Larey tossed in 11.

In earning their way to the clash with Dixon Monday, Guilford dumped Barrington, 92-81.

Bus Sign-Up For Basketball Slated Monday

Bus sign-up for students interested in attending the Dixon Dukes-Rockford Guilford basketball game, slated for 7 p.m. Monday evening, will be held Monday from 10 a.m. until noon at Dixon High School. Student buses will depart at 5:15 p.m. from the student parking lot. Cost of the bus is 80 cents, while tickets for the contest may be purchased at the door. Students are asked to bring a consent slip from their parents.

Dallas Favored Over Cleveland

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier believes the Dallas Cowboys won't make the same mistake Sunday in the National Football League Eastern Conference championship they've made in the last two outings against the Browns.

"I feel Dallas didn't take us too seriously and were looking ahead last year," Collier says. "In the regular season game earlier this year, I feel it was a little bit the same."

"Right now Dallas couldn't be in a better emotional position."

Dallas lost 31-20 to Cleveland in the Eastern Conference playoff in 1968 and fell 42-10 earlier this year.

Favored
But the oddsmakers have made Dallas a 6½ point favorite for the 1:30 p.m. kickoff in the Cotton Bowl before a sellout crowd of 71,000 and a national television (CBS) audience.

"That's a little unusual to be favorites over a team we've lost to this year, but I guess somebody knows something," says Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "I do know we were very confident last year, but you've also got to be scared or you are going to get a bump on your head."

Cleveland is injury free while Dallas has only nagging hurts. Running back Calvin Hill still has a sore toe, offensive tackle Ralph Neely has a sore leg, and quarterback Craig Morton still has a sore shoulder. All will start.

Both coaches promised a few new "wrinkles" for the game although they basically will stick with what's been good to them in leading the Browns to the Century Division title and Dallas to the Capitol Division crown.

The Cowboys are fast drawing the reputation of the neighborhood bully who does okay against the weaker guys but failed the gut check when another team of equal ability toes the line.

They've lost NFL championship games to Green Bay in the last minutes and were involved in the debacle at Cleveland last year.

Landry says, "Nobody will love us until we win the Super Bowl."

Collier says the hometown advantage will help the Cowboys, who have beaten Cleveland three consecutive times here.

Collier says his squad is "the youngest team in Cleveland history." For this reason, he believes turnovers will be a big factor in the game.

"You figure a team in an average game has the ball 12 times a game, three times a quarter," he says. "So you see you can't afford many mistakes."

Both teams scheduled brief workouts Saturday and were to be dismissed in time to watch the Minnesota-Los Angeles game on television.

Two Points Coming Up

Dixon's Jim Heintzelman prepares to let fly for two points in first half action of Friday's game at Rockford, while Galena players surround him. Watching the action is Dukes' Brad Kipping (53). Kipping, Heintzelman and other regulars spent good deal of time on bench as Dixon zipped by the Pirates, 93-63.

Oregon, Mount Morris, Forrester All Advance

FORRESTON —The Mount Morris Mounders, Oregon Hawks, Shannon Eagles and hometown Forrester Cardinals all advanced to the semi-final round of the Forrester Holiday Tournament in game-action Friday.

The Mounders of coach Elmer Hunter were the first to advance with an impressive 103-63 romp over the Warren Warriors.

The Mounders downed Stock-game, Forrester downed Stock-ton by an 82-54 margin. Oregon then beat Pearl City 58-42, while Shannon squeezed by Thomson 70-67.

Six of Hunter's Mounders scored in double figures and 10 Mount Morris players broke into the scoring column as the Mounders breezed to a 26-14 lead at the end of the first period, stretched it to 60-32 at the half by scoring 34 points in the second period while holding Warren to 18 as the Mounders began to substitute freely. In the third period the Mounders increased their lead to 84-46. Each team scored 19 in the final stanza to make the final 103-63.

Dave Cashman was the top Moulder scorer, with 18, while Mike Muller scored 17. Doug Shank totaled 16, Gary Personette 13 and Randy Miller and Ted Ghibellini each added 10 in the winning cause. John McCool was the top scorer for Warren with 22 points.

Tom Corcoran led the Oregon scorers with 14 points as the Hawks swept to a 58-42 win over Pearl City.

Mount Morris meets Forrester at 1 p.m. today in the first semi-final game, while Shannon plays Oregon at 2:30 in the second semi-final contest.

The two winners will meet for the championship at 8:30 p.m. today, while the losers will meet for third place at 7 p.m.

You Fouled Me!

Mike Muller of Mount Morris (42) seems to be telling Warren's Pete Steifel that he just committed a foul. The referee saw it that way, too, and Muller made both charity tosses as the Mounders romped to a 103-63 victory over Warren in the Forrester Holiday Tournament, Friday.

Future Looking Bright For Huskies' Basketball

By United Press International

If, as coach Tex Winter says, "Steve Hawes is the key to the future of University of Washington basketball," then the future looks bright indeed for the Huskies.

Hawes, a 6-foot-9, 220 pound sophomore who can play both forward and center, scored 22 points Friday night as the 11th ranked Huskies raised their record to 7-9 with a 90-86 victory over 14th ranked Southern California in an opening round game of the Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.

Hawes rewrote the Huskies' freshman record book last year when he averaged 27 points and 15 rebounds a game during a 19-2 season. Widely recruited as a high school star, Hawes narrowed his college choices down to Southern Cal and Washington before choosing the latter and signalling the revival of Washington's basketball fortunes under coach Winter who was lured away from Kansas State two years ago after compiling a 262-117 record as head coach of the Wildcats.

Hawes' 22 points proved only second best to teammate George Irvine's 41, including 27 in the second half when the Huskies rallied from a 45-39 halftime deficit. Southern Cal was led by Dennis Layton's 22 points.

Oregon State joined Washington in the semifinals, by defeating Temple, 65-44, thanks to a tenacious defense and 19 points by Vic Bartolome. First round action continues tonight when unbeaten and 12th ranked Illinois meets Washington State and defending champion Oregon opposes Michigan State.

Nine other major holiday tournaments got underway Friday night with three more beginning tonight and 10 more on Monday night.

Seventh ranked New Mexico State ran into unexpected difficulty but used Jimmy Collins' 25 points to down stubborn Idaho State, 88-80, in the Roadrunner Invitational at Las Cruces, N.M. Charlie Criss scored 21 and Sam Lacey had 18 for the Aggies who meet Creighton for the championship tonight. Mike Caruso's 28 points paced Creighton past San Jose State, 83-70.

Oklahoma overcame an 11 point deficit in the final six minutes and went on to upset ninth ranked Kansas, 68-64, in overtime and Kansas State knocked Oklahoma State from the ranks of the unbeaten, 51-49, in the first round of the Big Eight tournament at Kansas City, Mo.

Local favorites came through in the first round of the Milwaukee Classic where 19th ranked Marquette downed Delaware, 99-71, and Wisconsin held off Utah State, 81-74, while at Evansville, Ind., hometown fans cheered Evansville's 78-69 victory over Fordham in the Evansville Invitational. The Purple Aces will play Jacksonville, which defeated Arizona, 104-72, for the championship.

Oklahoma City beat Idaho, 81-61, and Memphis State edged Arizona State, 67-62, in the opening round of the All College tourney at Oklahoma City; defending champion Detroit topped Pittsburgh, 86-60, and Minnesota squeaked by Bowling Green, 70-68, in the Motor City Tournament at Detroit; North Carolina State topped Alabama, 75-51, and Northwestern beat Rutgers, 78-77, in the Lafayette Classic at Fayetteville, N.C.; and St. Peter's (N.J.) downed Tulane, 90-75, and Canisius topped Fairfield, 83-70, in the teen City tourney at Buffalo, N.Y.

In non-tournament action, eighth ranked Ohio University defeated Fresno State, 92-80, and Utah whipped Montana, 109-93.

Shrine Game Begins Bowl Game Activity

By KEN RAPPOPORT Associated Press Sports Writer

Star-gazing college football fans will find out what makes Steve run, among others, when the East meets the West in the glamor-tinted 45th Shrine game today.

Steve Owens, Oklahoma's bread-and-butter ball casier, heads a flock of powerhouse West runners in the annual classic for crippled children, shifted this year from San Francisco to Palo Alto, Calif.

The contest was among three today, unfurling several days of activity that wind up with the traditional bowl games on New Year's Day.

Tennessee met Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and the Blue All-stars clashed with the Gray at Montgomery, Ala., in earlier games today.

Toledo Wins

In action Friday night, Chuck Ealey scored a touchdown and passed for three more to lead unbeaten Toledo to a 56-33 victory over Davidson in the Tangerine Bowl at Orlando, Fla.

The Shrine game was moved out of San Francisco for only the second time in its history when reconstruction work on Candlestick Park made the stadium unavailable. The all-stars will play in Stanford Stadium, which seats 90,000—almost twice the capacity of Candlestick.

Owens, who chalked up innumerable rushing and scoring records enroute to the Heisman Trophy as college football's outstanding player of 1969, is joined in the backfield by several game-breaking runners.

These include, Bob Anderson, Colorado's All-American, Art Malone of Arizona State and Greg Jones of UCLA.

The East's trump card is a formidable defense, but it still boasts a couple of aces in the hole with Jim Otis of Ohio State at fullback and John Isenbarger, the Big Ten's leading rusher, also in the backfield.

Pecan Bowl

South Carolina and West Virginia continue the bowl activity, meeting Tuesday night in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta. On Wednesday night, Houston tackles Auburn in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

On Thursday, New Year's Day, top-ranked Texas plays Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas; Penn State No. 2, meets Missouri at night in the Orange Bowl at Miami; Mississippi and Arkansas clash in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans and Michigan and Southern California in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

Ealey, Toledo's super sophomore, was a one-man gang as the Rockets blasted Davidson out of the stadium Friday night. He streaked 57 yards for a touchdown with only 57 seconds gone in the game, then fired three touchdowns passes to help build a 42-7 halftime lead for Toledo.

Davidson rallied in the second half on touchdown passes of eight and 16 yards from Gordon Slade to George Hannon, plus a 29-yard scoring shot to Rick Lyon, but the heroics came too late.

Toledo, winner of the Mid American Conference, capped an 11-0 season and became the first undefeated Rocket team in 53 years.

Longhorn 'Family' Together

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—The Texas Longhorn "family" will be back together New Year's Day on the Cotton Bowl turf.

Safety Fred Steinmark, a junior starter from Denver, Colo., who had his cancerous left leg amputated six days after playing in Texas' 15-14 win over Arkansas, plans to be on the sidelines.

"I don't guess anybody not connected with athletics can understand it," said Darrell Royal, coach of the No. 1-ranked Texans, "but a team is just like a family. When something like this happens to a member of the family, other members are naturally saddened."

Royal said Steinmark, currently recovering from the surgery in Houston, is in the best of spirits.

"He still has that same twinkle in his eye that he had when he first came on this campus," Royal said.

Steinmark plans to be on the bench when Texas plays Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl.

"He has told me he hopes to be on the bench," Royal said. "He said the press box was no place for him. He said that was a place only for coaches and sports writers."

Bruins Meet Georgia Tech

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—UCLA's Bruins, who have given signs that they may be the best college basketball team in the nation again this season, test once-beaten Georgia Tech as the Bruin Basketball Classic gets under way tonight.

UCLA (5-0) and the Yellow Jackets (5-1) meet at 9 p.m. PST after defending Ivy League champion Princeton (3-2) battles Indiana (3-4) at Pauley Pavilion.

The Bruins are ranked No. 2 in the country behind Kentucky. In two of their last three starts, they have rolled up school record point totals.

Problems Again—Will Clay Fight?

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Doubts about whether former heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will go through with his scheduled Jan. 12 boxing comeback bid have hampered efforts to get closed circuit television coverage, one of the fight's promoters said Friday night.

"A lot of people still believe that Clay won't get in the ring," said Hank Moore of Tulsa. "They think that at the last minute, someone would pull something and stop the fight."

Moore said closed circuit television interests do not want to install expensive television equipment for a fight that may not be held.

Clay is scheduled to meet tenth-ranked Billy Joiner in the predominantly Negro community of Boley in east-central Oklahoma.

It would be the first match in more than two years for Clay, who was stripped of the heavyweight title in 1967 when he refused induction into the Army.

"Even if we don't have closed circuit television, we're still going on with the fight," Moore said.

"We have just about all the details worked out," he said.

Moore said the fight would be held on a 40-acre tract owned by the Boley Chamber of Commerce. He said construction has been started for a tent structure with a seating capacity of around 6,000.

A black Chicago businessman, Herman Roberts, is financing much of the advance costs, Moore said.

Moore said opposition to Clay is from what he called "white racism."

Moore said the Oklahoma legislature is under pressure to set up a state boxing commission to prevent future matches involving Clay.

Defensive Ace Might Miss Bowl

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) — Barry Pierson, who intercepted three passes in Michigan's 24-12 shocker over Ohio State, may miss the Rose Bowl.

Coach Bo Schembechler said Friday that a final decision will be made Monday when a cast is taken off the ace defensive back's injured arm.

Pierson, a senior who also returned a punt 60 yards to set up a Michigan touchdown in the Ohio State game, suffered the injury in practice in Ann Arbor.

If Pierson can't play, Schembechler said his place will be taken by Burce Elliott, son of former Michigan football player and ex-Illinois head coach Pete Elliott.

University of Southern California Friday lost a player for the Rose Bowl. Bob Giargetti, a reserve flanker and a member of the Trojans' special unit teams, was declared out with a shoulder separation.

All-America Wrestler Is Featured

A former All-America wrestler will be the featured guest speaker at the home of YFC director Steve Joos, located at 1519 W. Third St., at 7:30 p.m. today.

John Hanson, a native of Clinton, Iowa, where he was a state champion, achieved All-American status when he finished fifth in the NCAA wrestling championships in the 130-pound category in 1965. Currently, he is associated with "Athletes in Action," and will be sharing his own personal experiences with regard to Christ and life to all interested persons.

Honored guests for the evening will be college students home for Christmas vacation. A campus life reception will be held for them.

LOOKING AROUND

By E. G.

Ah, 'tis wonderful how the on-the-town-off-the-campus-crowd lives up the local scene . . . seen dashing about, catching up on the latest and getting together with the old gang are . . . Mike Shiaras, home from his studies at Dartmouth; Lucy and Libby Shaw and their brother, Tom . . . Kay Weiser, David Sinow, Mike Bender, Dennis Murphy and Rich Collins . . . but when the snow started falling here, Rich couldn't stand it — thinking of all that beautiful white fluff falling in the Rockies — so took off on a skiing holiday at Vail, Colo. . . . Jeannie Berger, Crystal Lynn Gustafson, Beryla Branson, Scott Ebaugh, Ward and Jimmy Hey . . . Ann and Rick Durkes . . . Mary Crabtree, Jimmy and Jock Heaton . . . Bred Selgestad, Mary Yearian and Mary Slack . . . Ted Moss (his brother, Zack, decided to jet out to California and spend the holiday with the Ted Kolbs at Santa Barbara) . . . Tom D'Albani, Kent Dewey, Emily Krakow and Gregory Beitel . . . Tripp and Jeff Shoaf . . . Michael Sloan, Tom Weed, Leota Endress, Carol Peterson and Kenneth Glass . . . Dennis Vandenberg, Becky Van Meter and Rosemary Vaile . . . Kim Krahenbuhl, Steve Kirby and Mike Herzog . . . David Brown, Matt Henry, Lynn Goddard, Kathy Spangler, Albert Kennedy, Bruce Keller, George Covert, Judy Benoy and Chris Brown.

And how nice to see . . . Betsy and Buddy Gerlach, here from Nashville, Tenn. . . . Leta and Rick Heckman, down from Rockford . . . Lt. and Mrs. Jim May visiting her parents, the Martin Taymans . . . Carole and Jim are living in Columbus, Miss., where Jim is stationed with the Army Air Force . . . Susan and Steve Montgomery wishing a quickie Merry Christmas to her family, the Clarence Deweys, while en route to Springfield to do the same for Steve's family . . . Shirley and Dick Belcher, in town from the Minnesota northwoods to join in the holiday festivities . . . Cindy Brasky, home from California, to round out the Joe Brasky family circle . . . and Kay Lund, who jetted home from Hawaii to have Christmas with her family, the Arnold Lunds.

Former Dixonites, Bettie and Bob Bovey, who have made Dallas, Texas, their home the past several years, extend a cordial invitation to any Notre Dame fans going to Dallas for the Cotton Bowl game to stop and say "hello" . . . their son, Rob, graduated from the University of Texas, El Paso, last spring . . . enlisted in the Army in August and is currently stationed at Fort Huachuca, Ariz.

The George Campbells and the Jim Waffles are entertaining this evening from 7-9 o'clock at the Dixon Country Club . . . Bonnie and Bud May, Grand Detour, entertained 45 Grand Detour friends last Sunday evening at a pre-Christmas party in their home . . . tomorrow evening, Dr. and Mrs. Robert LeSage Sr. and their son and daughter-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Robert LeSage Jr. are hosting a party at the former's home in Shore Acres . . . the same evening, Assembly Parkers are wining, dining and dancing at the Country Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Summers and Christie Ommen, Peterborough, Canada, arrive today for a few days' visit with Mrs. Summers' parents, and Christie's grandparents, the Grover McDonalds, 220 E. Boyd . . . Captain and Mrs. Earl Bufton and their children, Sara and Brian, leave this weekend for Quantico, Va., where Captain Bufton, USMC, has his next assignment.

The James Naylor's celebrated their Silver wedding anniversary at the scene of their wedding — Biloxi, Miss. — where they were married 25 years ago, Dec. 22, in the Methodist Church . . . the junior Bob Falters and their children, Debbie and David, today jetted to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and on over to the Bahamas for some fun in the sun.

Many thanks to . . . Joy E. Willey, 913 W. Third St., for sharing with us her poem, "Our Prayer For The New Year" . . . "Oh God, as we come to another New Year . . . Though the pathway ahead may seem dark and drear . . . Though the world may be torn from the struggles of war . . . What help could we ask for, what comfort more . . . Than to put our hand in Thine own great one . . . And walk with Thee, that Thy will may be done . . . Oh Prince of Peace, may our problems today . . . Find answers in Thee, for Thou are the Way."

"Oh God, as we enter another New Year . . . Though our way may be fraught with uncertainty and fear . . . Though freedom be threatened in our own dear land . . . What aid could we look for, what other helping hand . . . Than to lean on Thy strong everlasting arm . . . Trusting in Thee to keep us from harm . . . Oh Light of the World, give to age and to youth . . . Guidance and wisdom, for Thou are the Truth."

"Oh God, as we live through another New Year . . . Though men kill in hatred — take life that is dear . . . Though lost souls are living and dying in sin . . . What comfort can we give them, how else their hearts win . . . Than to tell the sweet story, how Christ lived and died . . . For all who accept Him, who will humble their pride . . . Oh Saviour of Men, look down on this strife . . . Bring peace and salvation, for Thou are the Life."

The Misses Jan and Linda Gascoigne, of Washington, D.C., are spending the holidays with their parents, Jeanette and Earl Gascoigne, Amboy . . . the Gascoignes are hosting a party tonight for the Naffziger and Gascoigne clans.

Happy birthday to . . . Sally Waffie, Dr. Lamar Wells and Lyle Gascoigne, tomorrow . . . Ruth Edwards, Kenneth Rubey, Dan Brown and Earl Gascoigne, the 29th . . . Carol Sue Taylor, 5, John Thomas, Mike McCarthy, 18, on the 30th . . . Lois Wolfe and Christie Ommen, the 31st . . . Pat Welch, Pam Lidinsky, Marie Rhodes and Scott Carl Piller, January 1st . . . Mrs. Charles Cramer and Tom Shaw, the 2nd.

Showers of flowers to . . . Becky and Skeets Woodyatt, celebrating their Pearl wedding anniversary — and Darrell and Sylvia Summark, their 11th, today . . . Pat and Walter Lohse, their 12th, the 28th . . . Elizabeth Pierce and Ben Denny Shaw, their Wood anniversary; Sylvia and Brad Nussbaum, their 14th; and Dick McCarthy's of White Rock, their 19th — all on the 30th . . . Dr. and Mrs. Lamar Wells, their 22nd, the 31st.

Happy New Year — and as the old year bows out and the New Year comes in — may your days ahead be filled with good health, peace and contentment.

Goings-On in Polo

Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gorski were their children and families; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gorski, North Pekin; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Farley and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Frison and family, all of Rockford; and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Johnson and family, Byron.

Christmas Day the group were guests of John's sister and family, the Lester Richardsons, Durand.

The Doctor Says

By WM. LAWRENCE, D.D.S.

DEAR DR. LAWRENCE: I'm suffering from earaches and pains in my jaw. The dentist says it's because of my bite which he describes as a Class III malocclusion. I wear a bite plate but it gives only temporary relief. Can't this condition be permanently corrected? — Mr. T. N. Kouse.

ANSWER: Class III malocclusion is a type of orthodontic problem characterized by prominent lower jaw. Many people think of it as an overdeveloped lower jaw, but it can be due to an UNDERdeveloped upper jaw or an unhappy combination of both.

People with this type of malocclusion should be candidates for orthodontic treatment at an early age. But even with early treatment success is often limited, depending mainly on extent of disharmony of upper and lower jaws, and amount and quality of bone in the upper jaw.

At age 38, orthodontic treatment is of doubtful value, perhaps even harmful. Then how can permanent relief be affected? It's not easy. As one ages, prominent lower jaws become even more prominent. Worse still, they tend to overclose, giving one the appearance of having no upper teeth or of having left their upper plate on the bathroom sink.

Treatment consists of "opening the bite" to relieve pressure on the ear and to create a more-reasonable harmony of upper and lower jaws.

Thin plastic colorless bite plates which fit over the upper teeth are used as temporary testing devices. The ideal "permanent" device is a fixed splint. This means capping all upper teeth with connecting caps, building them longer so that they contact lower teeth sooner than the natural ones did.

Continuous splints serve another purpose: they strengthen teeth and give them a better chance to survive the battering they continually get from powerful lower jaws with their strong muscles.

Aspirin and pain-relieving drugs can be used to make the patient more comfortable. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Wheelus Transfer To Be Probed

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Rep. Bertram L. Podell, D-N.Y., has disclosed that the House Armed Services Committee will investigate the transfer of Wheelus Air Force Base to the Libyan government. "There is no guarantee that the base or the equipment left behind will not be used contrary to American interests," said Podell. He said Friday that Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., committee chairman, had told him the panel would seek more information about the base turnover.

New Priorities

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wisc., has predicted the 1970 session of Congress will open with a great debate on reordering of the nation's priorities. Proxmire said Friday that a vote on the $20 billion money bill for health, education, welfare and labor programs which President Nixon has threatened to veto could set off the debate.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-596: Ron D., aged 26, was a former high school classmate of mine.

He was a competitive fellow but with a hot temper.

One night he and his wife had invited another couple to visit them and play bridge.

Ron played the game to win, so he was intent on making a 4-spade bid.

But his wife trumped his ace of hearts, probably because she was more interested in gossiping with the other wife at the table than in following the game.

Ron bawled her out unmercifully and as their debate grew

De Graffenried Named Cancer Crusade Chief

Fritz Herzog, chairman of the Lee County Unit of the American Cancer Society, announced today the appointment of Dr. T. P. de Graffenried, DeKalb, as chairman of the District I for the 1970 Crusade of the American Cancer Society, Illinois Division.

As chairman of one of the seven key districts for the April effort in Illinois, Dr. de Graffenried will mobilize Cancer Crusade volunteers to reach as many residents as possible in April with a lifesaving message, while working toward their share of a statewide financial goal of $2,725,000 for research, education and service.

Dr. de Graffenried is a pathologist who heads laboratories in Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

He is a board member of the Illinois Division Medical and Scientific Committee, past chairman of its Public Education Committee and member of the Illinois Division Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society.

Dr. de Graffenried noted that "The urgency of reaching individuals with the lifesaving leaflet is best underlined by the tragic statistic that 5,000 Illinois residents died needlessly last year because they did not get to their doctors in time."

A plant can live without roots and leaves. Lichens, for example, have no true roots, stems or leaves.

The Worry Clinic

worse, she had to flee out the front door.

Ron chased her, apparently so irate that he was going to use his fists.

As she ran into the street, Ron tripped over something and fell, striking his head on the curb stone.

His skull was fractured and he died from internal bleeding in the brain.

It was a tragedy to see such a talented and otherwise likeable fellow end his life prematurely just because he couldn't control his hot temper.

So urge your children to "cerebrate" before they "emote" to such a violent degree.

And by "cerebrate," we mean perform any mental task, even if it be the proverbial act of "Counting 10 before you act."

For the mental process of reciting "One-two-three, etc." forces your brain to operate and thus actually reduces the zooming emotional tension that otherwise may produce an explosion.

Dateline: U.S. Forces

Army Sgt. I.C. Richard A. Wallace received his second award of the Army Commendation Medal and the Bronze Star Medal, and has received his first award of the Air Medal, while he was a patient in Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D.C., on Nov. 11.

Wallace received the Army Commendation Medal for heroism in action while engaged in military operations against a hostile force during his last assignment in Vietnam.

The Bronze Star Medal was awarded for outstandingly meritorious service with the 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile) in Vietnam and the Air Medal was awarded for meritorious service while participating in aerial flight.

His wife, Linda, resides at 827 E. Graham St., Dixon.

Another helpful device is to quickly widen your perspective, as by thinking:

"Suppose I were to die tonight! Would I then be so emotionally violent because my child has broken a window or been tardy en route to school?"

It will surprise you to find how your present emotional "mountain" will then shrink to "molehill" size with that habit of assuming you have maybe no more than 12 hours to live!

A similar widening of the horizons often explains why grandparents are not as strict with their grandchildren as they were with their own kiddies.

For when you are 75 and getting into the philosophical stage whereby you wonder about the next world and how soon you may make your exit from this Earthly Classroom in God's Cosmic School, you figure that an extra piece of cake or ice cream cone for Junior is too trivial to fuss about.

Thus grandparents indulge their grandchildren unduly because they no longer make a "mountain" out of "milk and orange juice" or other dietary regulations that Mamma maintains with inexorable dictatorship.

Religion thus is a great aid to emotional perspective. For it promotes distant vision!

The tightrope walker likewise knows that if he focusses on his feet, he will unduly magnify slight deviations to the right and overly compensate to the left, where he will fall.

So he looks far away into the wings of the theater to gain proper perspective and keep balanced.

Send for my booklet, "How to Control Your Emotions," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it with your children.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

INSULATE
AIRTEX ROCKWOOL
"BLOWN" HOME INSULATION
● High Heat Stopping Ability
Is the first requirement of an efficient insulating material. Airtex Blown Insulation was developed specifically to meet this requirement. And since it is an effective non-conductor, Airtex provides a dense barrier to the passage of heat in summer and in cold weather.
● The Fireproof Qualities of Airtex
Are inherent in the product itself. Airtex cannot burn, contains nothing that will support combustion. No chemicals are needed to make it temporarily "flame proof" or fire "resistant."
● Expert Installation
Is vitally important to assure the maximum benefits of a complete insulation job. Airtex Blown home insulation is installed only by experienced and competent workmen.
● Permanent Protection
Requires a permanent type of insulation that retains its efficiency for the life of the house. Blown Insulation is a mineral insulation . . . not animal or vegetable. Unlike organic materials it needs no chemical treatment — it is as permanent as stone.
